

vocabulary

Word	What it means preacher	a person who delivers a sermon or religious address to a group of people, often in a church encores	repeated or additional performances of an item at the end of a concert, as called for by an audience philanthropy	the desire to promote the welfare of others, expressed especially by the generous donation of money to good causes PETA	People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals syndicated	published or broadcast material simultaneously in a number of newspapers, television stations, etc mandolins	a musical instrument resembling a lute, having paired metal strings that are plucked; it is played with long sustained notes suited	right or appropriate for a particular person, purpose, or situation telethons	a very long television program, typically one broadcast to raise money for a charity