Author & Strategist

About Courtney

Courtney Kenney is an award-finalist author and book launch strategist.

With a background of 16 years as a corporate project manager, Courtney brings a unique blend of creativity and productivity expertise to her work.

Courtney has published 13 science-fiction books under an award-finalist pen name. She understands the writing, publishing, and marketing process firsthand.

As a book launch strategist, she offers strategic guidance and support during the publishing process. Her client book launches have included New York Times, Wall Street Journal, and USA Today bestsellers. Courtney's expertise helps her clients navigate the complex world of publishing with less stress and more joy.

When she's not writing or coaching, Courtney can be found exploring the outdoors of Northern Illinois with her husband and their Jack Russell terrier, who also happens to be the boss of the household.
