

Is Student Apathy Draining the Joy from Your Classroom?

Research-backed reasons why and what to do about it ahead... 🖐️

1

You're not alone.

Teachers everywhere cite student apathy as the #1 cause of frustration and job dissatisfaction, leaving many educators unsure how to move forward.

Research: 2023 Survey, What it's Like to Be a Teacher Today (Pew Research Center)

Swipe

2

There are so many reasons that can lead to student apathy but here are a few of the most frequently mentioned:

- unengaging lessons
- inconsistent (or non-existent) consequences
- disengaged parents

Swipe →

3

What do students say?

Many students think that school doesn't really teach them anything new or useful.

Students feel they can learn a lot more, quickly and on their own, by using the Internet.

They find school boring and feel it stops them from doing things they actually like.

They view the whole school system as slow and outdated.

They're still interested in learning, but they prefer getting their information through quick videos and trying it for themselves.

Swipe →

4

Where does that leave teachers?

Without addressing these issues, schools will continue to be viewed as stagnant, passionless prisons.

To combat student apathy, schools need to adapt.

We can do this by:

- Providing shorter lessons with engaging content
- Offering students choice in their learning environment and work production (alone, with others, online, offline)
- Building influence rather than compliance-based relationships
- Being open to new ways of connecting and teaching content.

Swipe

This is where The Accelerator can help.

You might be surprised to learn that something as simple as the Accelerator program by IAS can be the gamechanger you've been looking for.

How?

By simply equipping you with a toolkit of strategies, lessons, resources, and PD - all designed to re-engage students and create a dynamic learning environment.

Swipe

Ready to Learn More?

If you're ready to fight back against student apathy and learn more about how these tools can transform your teaching experience, head over to artsintegration.com/accelerator to get started.